

NTC Staff

Martin Jacobs, Executive Director of the National Textile Center, joined NTC in 2003 after a 33-year career in industry, including 21 yrs in polymer research and management at Uniroyal where he rose to VP R&D of their Engineered Products Co. (which includes coated fabrics) and 9 yrs at Velcro where as Technical Director, he was responsible for new product development. Since 2001 Marty consults on project management, polymer technology and patent system development and is an Adjunct Research Professor in the Fibrous Materials Research Center at Drexel Univ. He earned a B.S. in chemistry at Rensselaer in 1964 and a Ph.D. in polymer chemistry at Princeton in 1969. He serves on the Board of Directors at TRI-Princeton.

marty@ntcresearch.org
(215)-540-0760

<http://www.ntcresearch.org/map/JacobsBio.htm>

Joe D. Cunning, Consultant, formerly Executive Director of the National Textile Center, joined NTC in 1992 after a 28-year career in fibers and technical management at DuPont. He earned a Ph.D. in chemical engineering from Iowa State in 1965. Joe speaks and consults widely on large system integration problems using neural nets and chemometrics to relate multivariate inputs and outputs. He is vice-president of the Textile Institute and on the governing board of the Fiber Society and serves on the technical advisory committees of [TC]² and TRI Princeton.

joe@joecunning.com
(302)-478-4744

<http://joecunning.com/Joe.htm>

Cindy Albright, Electronic Media Specialist for the National Textile Center, joined NTC in 1997. Cindy is president of Albright Computing, a firm which creates and maintains websites. She graduated with a B.S. in economics in 1962 from Butler Univ. (Indianapolis). She was a computer trainer for several years, working for Online Consulting and Delaware educational institutions.

cindy@albrightcomputing.com
(302)-562-7082

<http://www.albrightcomputing.com>

Thomas P. Doherty, technical consultant and technical editor for the National Textile Center, joined NTC in 1993 after a 26-year career in fibers and technology forecasting at DuPont. He earned an A.B. in chemistry in 1962 from the University of Omaha and a Ph.D. in organic chemistry from Univ. of Illinois in 1967. Tom is also a professional genealogist, historian and futurist specializing in tailored presentations, technological and social trend forecasting, strategic planning and futures research.

tom@ntcresearch.org

(302)-478-4758

<http://home.comcast.net/~tdoherty>

Phoebe F. Doherty, Printed Publications Coordinator for the National Textile Center, joined NTC in 1996. She received a Doctor of Chiropractic in 1994 from Pennsylvania College of Chiropractic and a CCSP (Sports Physician) postdoctoral degree in 1996 and is licensed to practice in PA and DE. Phoebe earned a B.A. in biology and teaching certification from Univ. of Delaware in 1966 then joined DuPont as an inhalation toxicologist and then a technical information analyst managing information search centers.

pdoherty@magpage.com

(302)-478-4758

<http://home.comcast.net/~pdoherty>

Rhonda Shin, Communications and Forum Director for the National Textile Center, joined NTC in 1992. She is a principal and account director for rhonjohn Communications of Newark DE, an integrated communication design and marketing services agency producing business communication packages, specializing in the design and planning of corporate meetings and events. Rhonda graduated with a degree in commercial art from the Art Institute of Philadelphia in 1979.

rhonda@rhonjohn.com

(302)-235-2100; FAX (302)-235-7515

<http://rhonjohn.com>

